The expression of the students . . . fearful sophomores . . . buttering juniors . . . know-it-all seniors . . . ever changing . . . ever new . . . yet ever the same . . . always familiar . . . the twist . . . laughter in the lunchroom . . . "almost" getting five . . . numerous congregations under the clock after homeroom . . . the deep pride in City . . . the first day of school . . . the seniors, not knowing where to go in the new building, yet acting as if they had lived there for three years . . . the sophomores being "fooled" by the upperclassmen . . . the elevator passes and twenty-five cent locker rentals . . .

Can you still remember it? That first day . . . so long ago yet so very near . . .

Of course you can . . . none of us forget!

The hours after school . . . painting signs . . . practicing for the play . . . devotion to sports . . . decorating for the Prom . . . endless band practice . . . cheering the team on . . . the satisfaction of knowing you did something extra . . . that something that wasn't demanded . . . that you didn't have to do, but that made C.H.S. a better place because you did it . . .

and in that moment you know . . . whether you sang the lead . . . lost the game . . . or even if you worked behind the scenes where everybody didn't see you . . . didn't notice . . . in that moment you know that it was worth it all . . . worth the supperless nights . . . the midnight hours of study . . . the chilling winds on the field . . . the butterflies on opening night . . .

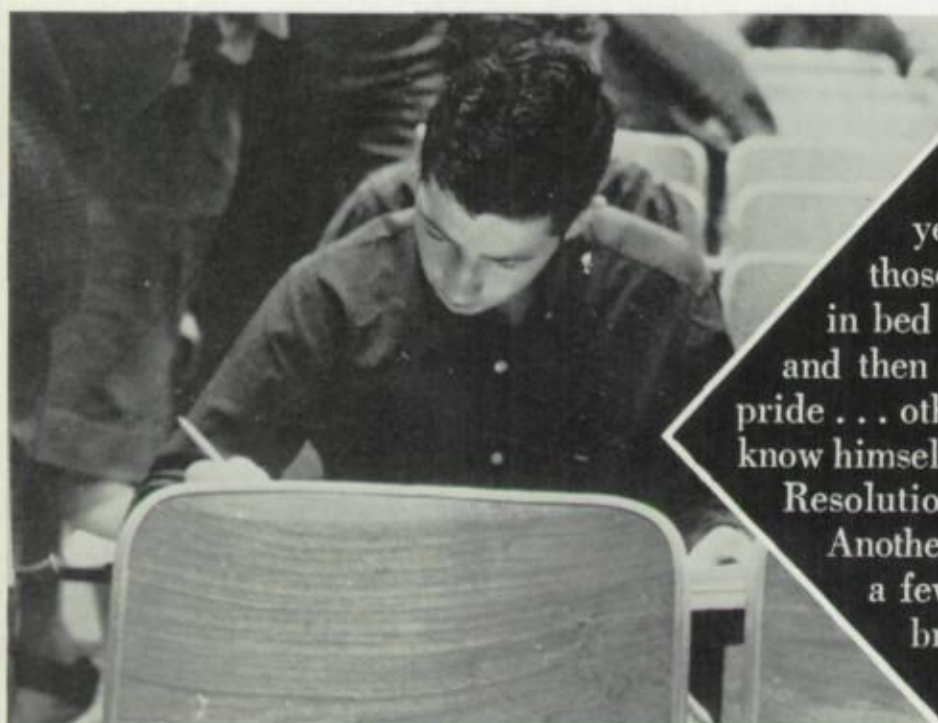

Student life is the pride in the accomplishments of those we've known for three short years . . . the golden moments of the Miss C.H.S. scene . . . the endless talk of college . . . the wonderful friendships made . . . the waiting . . . participation . . . surprises . . . But words are so empty . . .

you can't describe student life . . . you have to live it.

As you step out of C.H.S. you can never forget her . . .

PEOPLE

That foreboding word that brings the crushing reality of high school life in about unsuspecting students . . . study . . .

During exams . . . any place . . . anywhere . . . any time . . . from the noise of the biology lab to the sunny coziness of the library balcony . . . from the hasty notes scratched down on every available sheet of paper to the last minute exertion of term papers yet to be finished . . . from the early morning hours until the midnight oil is put to use . . . the well known secret of success at C.H.S. is to put lingering thoughts away . . . open the text . . . and learn . . .

And when it's all over . . . when those hours of sleep, and loss of energy catch up . . . the bliss of collapsing . . . totally and completely . . . and waking up to find yourself in the middle of next semester . . .

yes . . . another semester had passed . . . never to be relived . . . those nights when the books stayed open until the entire neighborhood was in bed . . . those nights when the agony of homework seemed useless . . . and then the final judgment . . . REPORT CARDS! Some deserving deep pride . . . others simply tucked away in a pocket . . . each helping his owner to know himself better . . . the work of six weeks seen in the form of one small letter.

Resolutions...anguish...excuses...knowledge...all are a part of our learning.

Another year at City . . . typical, yet unique . . . with lots of laughter, not a few worries and those moments of gloom that made the laughter all the brighter . . . a year of accomplishment . . .

how would we have ever made it through without those catnaps—in class and out—somehow we didn't get lost in the shuffle . . .

somehow we got all the books read, all the reports typed . . . and the projects completed . . . somehow we made it through . . . it all passed by . . . sooner than we ever thought possible . . . days slipped into weeks, weeks into semesters, and then winter was gone . . . and soggy clouds of damp spring hung over the once bleak hill . . . boots and loafers gave way to tenny pumps . . . once more another class was leaving . . . diplomas . . . white dresses and coats . . . practice . . . rush practice . . .

and then with a pang of regret . . . we suddenly knew another year of learning had gone by . . .

Three years of knowledge can never be equaled as you step up the stairway of City's...

LEARNING

The distant reverberation of the drums at half-time . . . the drill squad filing onto the field . . . the victories . . . over Brainerd . . . over Central . . . the crispness of the late autumn air . . . the exciting moments of homecoming ceremonies . . . the thrill of the national anthem . . . the month of endless training . . . anguish . . . exhaustion . . . bliss . . . trophies . . . broken records . . .

the ear-cracking shouts in the gym: "Let's go, big City . . . let's go!" the endless enthusiasm of our cheerleaders . . .

ours was a good year . . . the pep meeting without lights . . . the car caravan to Engel Stadium . . . the 3,000 fans at the District 9 Tournaments . . . the yelling . . . crossed fingers . . . prayers . . .

With few exceptions City presented outstanding leaders in almost every sport . . . we boasted 3 state champions in wrestling . . . not to mention our all-city, all-district and all-region basketball stars . . . in track and wrestling our teams ranked among the top 3 in the state . . . it was work . . . sometimes the muscles grew so tired that they quivered until blessed sleep gained control over them . . . hidden tears emerged from even the boldest eyes at the thought of more exercise . . . some quit . . . some continued . . . some were faced with deep disappointment . . . others with resounding victories . . . many benefited . . . others were not so fortunate . . .

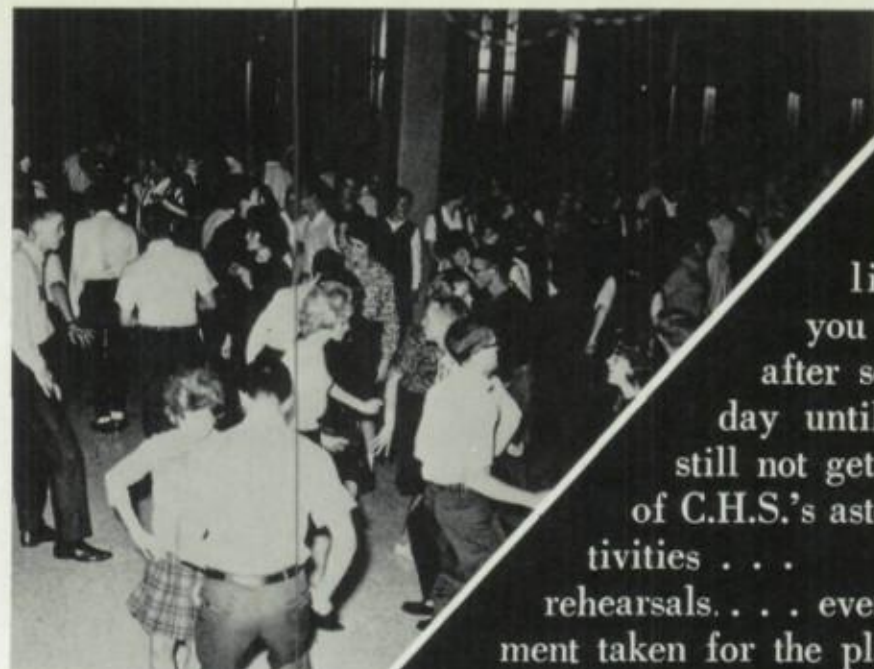

the sports world is one of determination and self-discipline . . . that white "C" on a jacket symbolized more than watching others do the work . . . it pointed out the individual who worked as one of a team to make the name of City High even greater . . .

C.H.S. had champions on the football field . . . in the gym . . . on the courts . . . in the pools . . . on the diamond . . . on the mat . . . on the greens . . . on the track . . .

To put it mildly, C.H.S. was a city of male and female champions, when she stepped into the world of . . .

SPORTS

Ah! It's a great life. Why, you could stay after school every day until dusk and still not get in on half of C.H.S.'s astonishing activities . . .

rehearsals . . . every free moment taken for the play . . . for assembly programs . . . for "Stunt Nite" and "Prevues" . . . meetings after school . . . concerning clubs . . . the New York trip . . . decorating for the Vondells . . . or just sticking around until someone utters, "Hey, come give me a hand," and you're caught up in a four-hour job . . .

after announcements are read in homeroom . . . did it happen to you often . . . three meetings to attend after school, all at the same time!

Trivial things? Perhaps . . . but remember how important they were for us during the 90th year of Chattanooga High School History.

And how the student body went for those extra activities . . . always signing lists . . . showing up on Saturdays for a full day of painting flats or decorating the Commons . . .

"Don't stand there — GET BUSY!" All you had to do was ask, and C.H.S. handed you an over-loaded armful of chores to do . . .

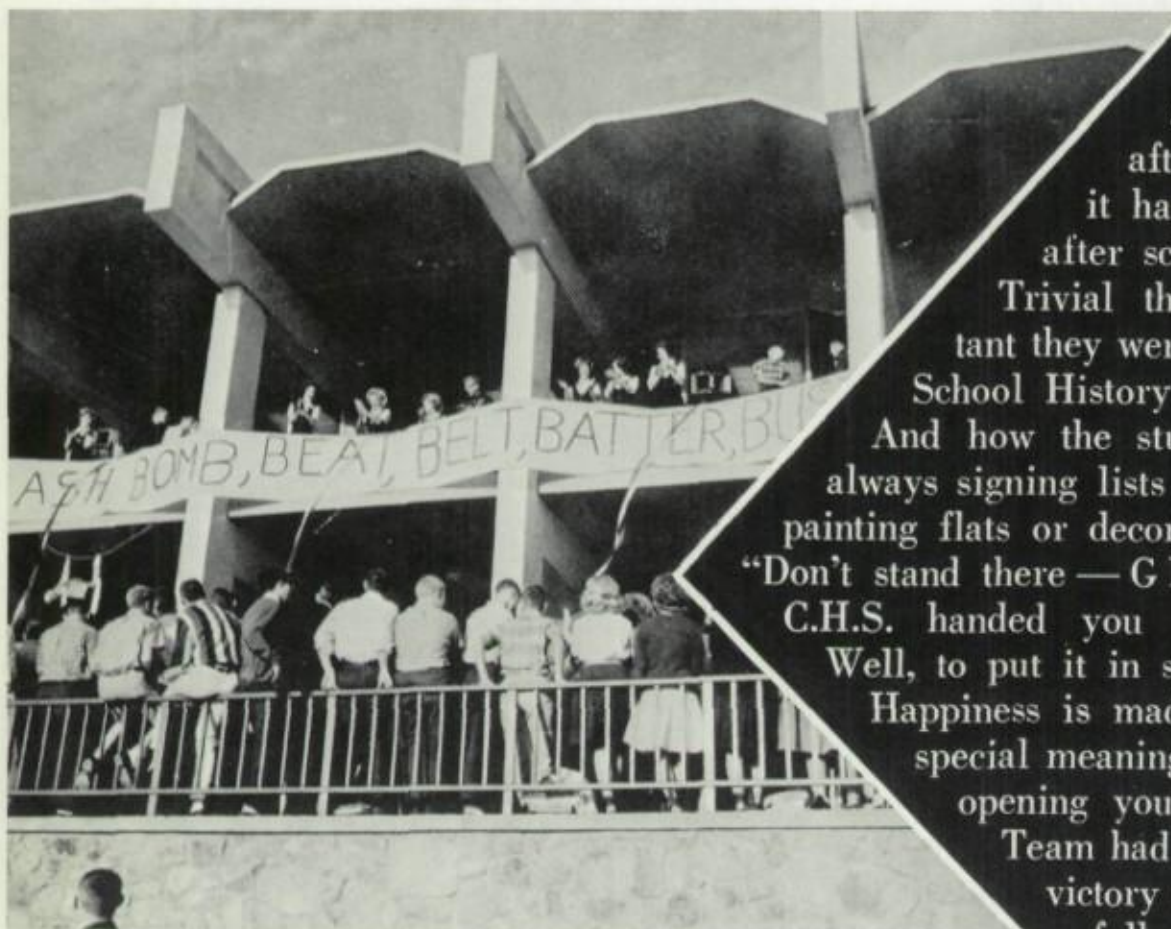

Well, to put it in simplest form — you name it and we had it! Happiness is made up of little things . . . those times that have special meaning only for you . . .

opening your locker to find that the mighty C.H.S. Rolling Team had struck again . . . dancing the night away after our victory over Central . . . missing honor roll by one C . . . following up on the stylish fads . . . surpassing that desirable urge to slide down the banister . . .

that's what you have when school is over . . . these are the things you don't forget . . .

City's activities, for the most part, don't go down in a grade form . . . they are only remembered and occasionally spoken of . . . but if you were asked to do it all again, there would be no doubt as to your answer . . . because this phase of your three years is unforgettable . . .

As you step out of C.H.S., and into life, you will always have vivid memories of her . . .

COLONEL BATES —

The ideals and integrity of Col. Creed Fletcher Bates as principal of Chattanooga High School have taught dignity, happiness, and beauty to generations of boys and girls to prepare them to take their places as responsible citizens and outstanding leaders.

Col. Bates' interest in the individual has always predominated all others. He has cultivated thousands of young minds, molding each into a distinct contributing entity. The common-place, the second best, has never been enough for Col. Bates. Under such inspired and dedicated leadership, Chattanooga High School has become renowned as one of the quality schools in the South.

Last year Colonel often expressed his primary wish, "I want to see my people safely over Jordan." Now, this wish has been granted; in this final year of service Col. Bates brought to the new location all the warmth, depth, and excitement of a great heritage. Through him, the great traditions have survived; the high standards and spirit of the past are now encompassed in new walls. Chattanooga High School is prepared to meet the challenge of the future!

Col. Bates graduates this year. Emblazoned across his diploma are the words: "You have acted well your part; therein all the honor lies." In the past months many individuals and organizations have paid tribute to this great leader, and thus do we; however, the most fitting monument Chattanooga High School can erect is the students — past, present, and future — who are living and will continue to live by the precepts taught and lived by this builder of men, Col. Creed Fletcher Bates.

Mr. Chattanooga High School

CHS — "The Oldest and Best Secondary

A born leader of men through the years, Col. Bates has taken part in all types of civic and church activities. He has served as a Trustee of Bonny Oaks Orphanage since 1929, succeeding his father, Squire L. W. Bates, who was instrumental in founding Bonny Oaks. Col. Bates now serves as secretary of the Board of Trustees.

Col. Bates has been prominent in Methodism for more than a half century. In the St. Elmo Methodist Church, he is on the board of trustees. For ten years he was chairman of the board and a steward. He has previously been a delegate to the District and Annual Conferences of the Methodist Churches.

The Methodist Church established a school, the Standard Training School, of which Col. Bates was named Chairman of the Board of Managers; and since 1946 he has been a dean. Col. Bates has also held the position of Sunday School Superintendent.

Col. Bates joined the Chattanooga Civitan Club in 1922, two years after it was founded. He has been an active member for forty-two years and served as president in 1932-33.

Col. Bates has served as District Commander of Civitans, Chairman of Chattanooga Armory Advisory Committee, President of State Y.M.C.A. Board, President of Chattanooga Half Century Club, Commander of James-Craig Ludon Post of the American Legion, Trustee of University of Chattanooga, Member of Committee on Colleges and Universities for Southern Association of College and Secondary Schools.

Creed Fletcher Bates was born February 1, 1894, the sixth child of Squire L. W. Bates and Jane L. Bates. He was born in St. Elmo and spent all the summers of his boyhood on Waldens Ridge.

Creed received his elementary education at St. Elmo Grammar School. He was a good student even as a small boy. He loved local history and spent many of his waking hours on Lookout Mountain hunting for Indian relics.

Completing four years of work in three years, Creed graduated from Central High School in 1911 with honors. He was Alumni Editor of "The Digest," the school's newspaper, president of the debating society, and a member of the track team.

Receiving his A.B. degree in education, Mr. Bates graduated from U. C. in three years with honors. He worked on U. C.'s yearbook and newspaper; he also held comic rolls in all the college plays.

In 1914 Prof. Bates began his far-reaching career as an educator at Central High School. He taught there until the outbreak of World War I in 1917.

Prof. Bates began his military career at the Student

School in the South"

first Officers' Training Camp held in the South in Fort Oglethorpe. He graduated as a 2nd Lt. in Field Artillery. Since Lt. Bates spoke French fluently, he was chosen to go to France as a billeting officer. After he was discharged in Germany at the closing of the war, Lt. Bates decided to remain in Europe and study at the Sorbonne in Paris.

He later received his M.S. Degree from Columbia University and has done graduate work at Stanford University, the University of Wisconsin, Peabody, and the University of Cuba.

He returned to Chattanooga to teach at City until 1925; then he opened the new Look-out Junior High School as principal. He served in that capacity until May of 1926.

In the fall of 1927 Prof. Bates became principal of Chattanooga High School. He has served continuously in this capacity, except during service in World War II and for over one year when he served as acting School Superintendent while Superintendent Derthick was in England.

During World War II he served as a Special Service Officer, securing entertainment for troops abroad; he also served as an interpreter. For outstanding service he was given the Legion of Merit Award and was discharged as a Lieutenant Colonel.

Returning to Chattanooga, Col. Bates resumed his position as principal of the "oldest and best secondary school in the South."

There is much more which could be said; these few words can not possibly do justice to the life, influence, and talents of this great leader in determining the destiny and prestige of Chattanooga High School.

Class of 1964

We are the seniors—a reminder of past heritage
 We are the elders—the confident ones
 We are the product of established tradition
 We are the spirit—the fight song—the “Alma Mater”
 We are the frenzied pleas and the shouts of victory
 We are the triumph and the celebration
 We are the wild gyrations of the latest dance step
 We are the pixies of May Day—entranced by beauty
 We are the remembrances of Class Night’s satires
 We are today’s fun and fellowship
 These three years have been an introduction to life
 We have lived, laughed, loved
 We are the companions of time—hurrying on the Future
 We are the architects of things to come
 We are the student government—the unmeasured opportunity
 Ours is the old ring—a collector’s item
 We are the leaders—the followers; we are now and forever.

And so, our officers and our wonderful sponsor have led us through another wonderful year at CHS. It has been filled with sad and angry moments, but the times we will cherish and remember most are those in which we experience victory, happiness, and quiet rejoicing together. It was our last year, the year when the Class of 1964 became the first graduating class at the new Chattanooga High School.

Juniors

We are the Juniors—the “middle class.”

We are the in-between, struggling for greatness.

Ours is the exhaustion of PSAT tests.

Ours is the life of American literature.

We are the remnants of a name, too soon a memory.

Ours are the friendships, cut deep into our lives.

Ours is the spring prom,—a namesake shared with Seniors.

We thread the sidewalks of life with unsure feet.

We are the guides of next year's success.

We are the everchanging dreams, searching for the future.

JONES, ALLIN

Col. Donald Jones, CHS ROTC Commander; Sponsor, Miss Sherrie Hill

Don Jones, Bill Allin, and Emmett Ross, Colonel, Lt. Colonel, and Major respectively, work diligently to maintain the high standards of the ROTC department. They have found, as next year's officers will find, the ROTC is a lot of hard work but nevertheless has its rewards. There are many routine duties, not to mention the big affairs such as Parents' Night and the Military Ball. Without a doubt they have gained good experience in army life and enjoyed their positions throughout the year.

Col. Jones makes out weekly reports.

CITY 6

EAST RIDGE 6

City started off its successful football season with Lonnie Floyd's 72 yard runback of East Ridge's opening kickoff. One play later Jim Bowen hurled over the T.D. The rest of the first and second quarter was a defensive battle. The Pioneers managed to get to City's one yard line in the third quarter with a first down. Four plays later the Dynamo defensive team had the ball on the five yard line. Coming up from behind late in the fourth quarter the Pioneers fought their way to the goal to tie the mighty Maroons—6 to 6.

TYNER 6

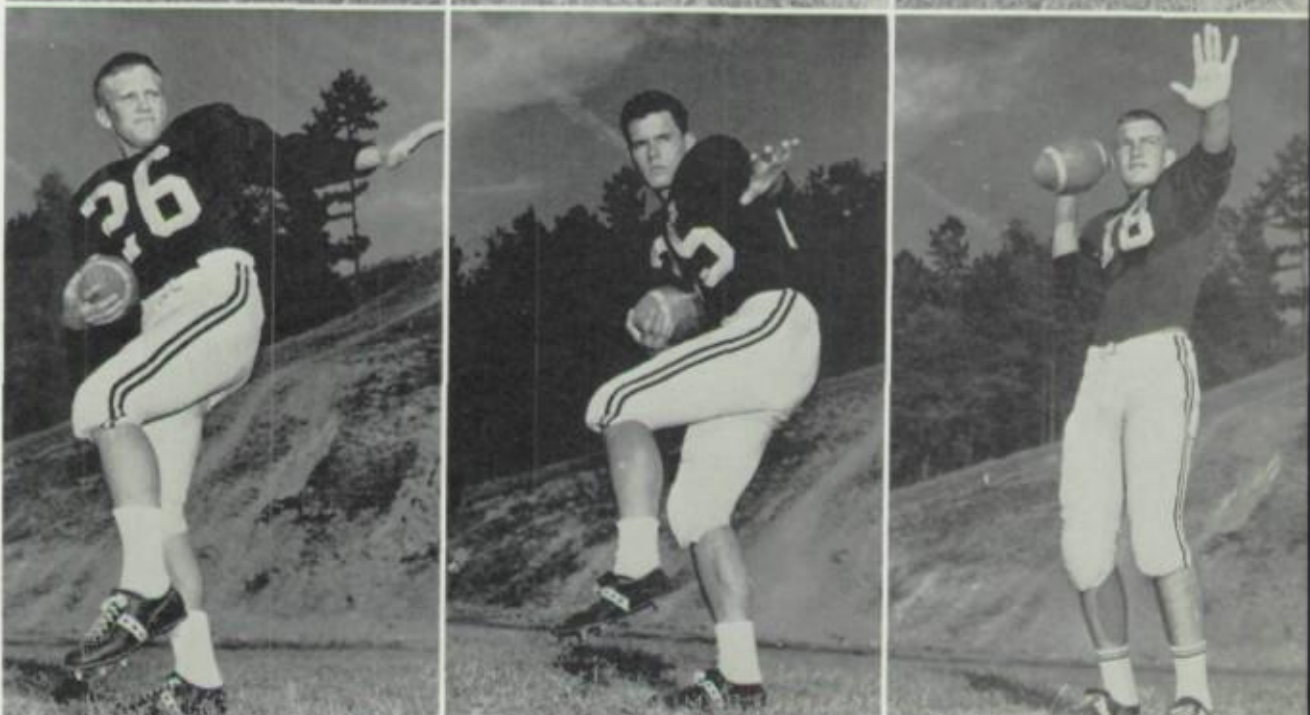

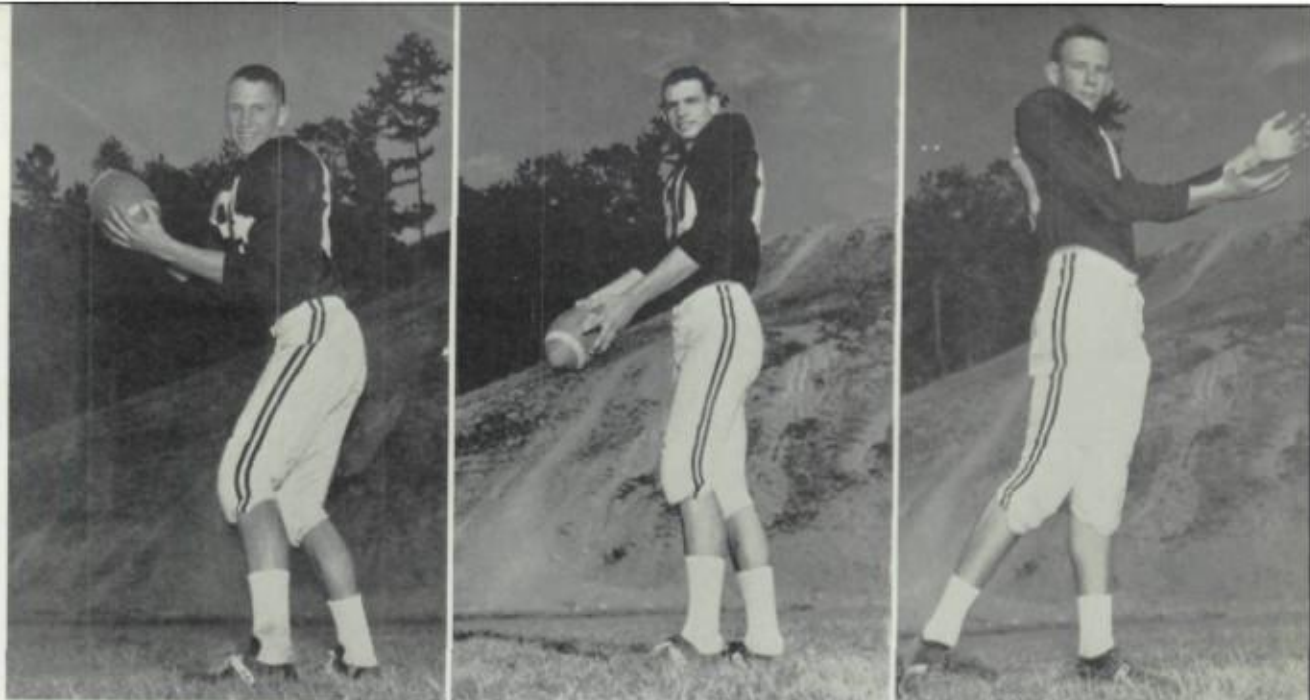

The Dynamos seem to have a field day of scoring as they overpowered the Hilltoppers. Mike Sherrell and quarterback Dave Geren started off the scoring as they slipped over the twin stripes early in the game. Seeing their chance to score, Danny Smith and Captain Yogi Whaley also handed over points to the rugged Dynamos. Tyner, getting desperate, tried a long shot pass in the last twenty-five seconds of the game and connected for a 6 pointer with the game ending-up 26 to 6.

CITY 7 BRAINERD 0

The sounds of "Bomb Brainerd" were heard an hour before the revenge-minded Dynamos got hold of the Rebels. The first and second quarters provided time for the Dynamo defensive team to weaken the Rebels for a 66 yard scoring drive that started in the second half kick-off. The Dynamos were rewarded with a touchdown and an extra point by Times Back of the Week, Mike Sherrell. The Dynamos held their lead the rest of the game to remain victorious over Brainerd 7 to 0.

CITY 13 RED BANK 0

After two quarters of bruising defensive battles, the Lions couldn't take anymore of the high-flying Dynamos's offense as Lonnie Floyd surged over for a six pointer in the third quarter. Seeing that the Lions were weakened in the fourth quarter, Captain "Yogi" Whaley charged 30 yards for the T.D. and also kicked the extra point to beat the Lions 13 to 0.

70 Boys Earn Varsity "C" Letter

The Lettermen's Club is composed of boys who have earned varsity "C" letters. The club has no definite days for meeting, but it does meet at several different times during the year. There are various social events during the year, which are advised by Coach Rohrdanz, who is the sponsor. He helps them carry out the purposes of the club, which are to promote sportsmanship and aid in enforcing athletic regulations.

Girls' Sports

Mrs. Mary Rodman

Mrs. Mary Rodman, hard working coach of the Dynahs, has expended a great amount of effort towards the girls' athletic program this year. As coach of the volleyball, basketball, swimming, and tennis teams she has gone to great lengths to insure the continuation of competitive girls' athletics at City High.

She is sponsor of the Gym Managers Club and has seen to it that gym classes are run smoothly and effectively. We of the Dynamo Staff are sure that her efforts are sincerely appreciated by the girls whom she has taught or coached.

GYM MANAGERS

The Gym Managers is a group of senior girls selected to assist Mrs. Rodman. They check roll cards and lead the exercises of the gym classes. Throughout the year this group promotes money-making projects to help support the Dynahs.

These girls are presented on May Day as the May Queen's court.

At the end of the school year new gym managers are selected to serve during the following year. These girls are elected and tapped by former gym managers.

OFFICERS: Sharon Samples, Secretary; Susan Tabb, Treasurer; Kitty Gilbert, Chaplain; Rosie Higdon, President; Jane Colquitt, 1st Vice-President; Susan Kampmeier, 2nd Vice-President.

The winners of the serious category in the creative dance competition presented "The Salem Witch Trial." Below, winners of the light category presented the graceful "Swan Dance."

All of the dancers were judged by four judges over a two day period. Taken into consideration was originality of costume, choice of theme, and gracefulness of movements on the floor.

Each member of both prize-winning dance groups was presented a silver charm with "First in Dance" engraved on it.

GYM CLASSES PARTICIPATE IN CREATIVE DANCING

Each year the gym classes devote one six weeks to creative dancing. Leaders are chosen from each class. These girls originate dances and then teach them to their dance groups. The winning groups from each class present a program to the school. From these, the two best groups are chosen and awarded medals.

DYNAH'S "B" TEAM

The "B" team basketball squad is made up primarily of sophomore and junior girls who are working toward a position on the varsity basketball team.

Headed this year by co-captains Moppy Weaver and Sherrie Weekley, the thirty-member team has played games against "B" teams of other schools.

These girls, coached by Mrs. Rodman, work out with the varsity team every day, during sixth period, and have excellent opportunities to be permanent members of the Dynahs.

Co-captains Martha Weaver and Sherrie Weekley.

Higdon and Gilbert Lead Dynahs Volleyball Team

"Good one! Susan."

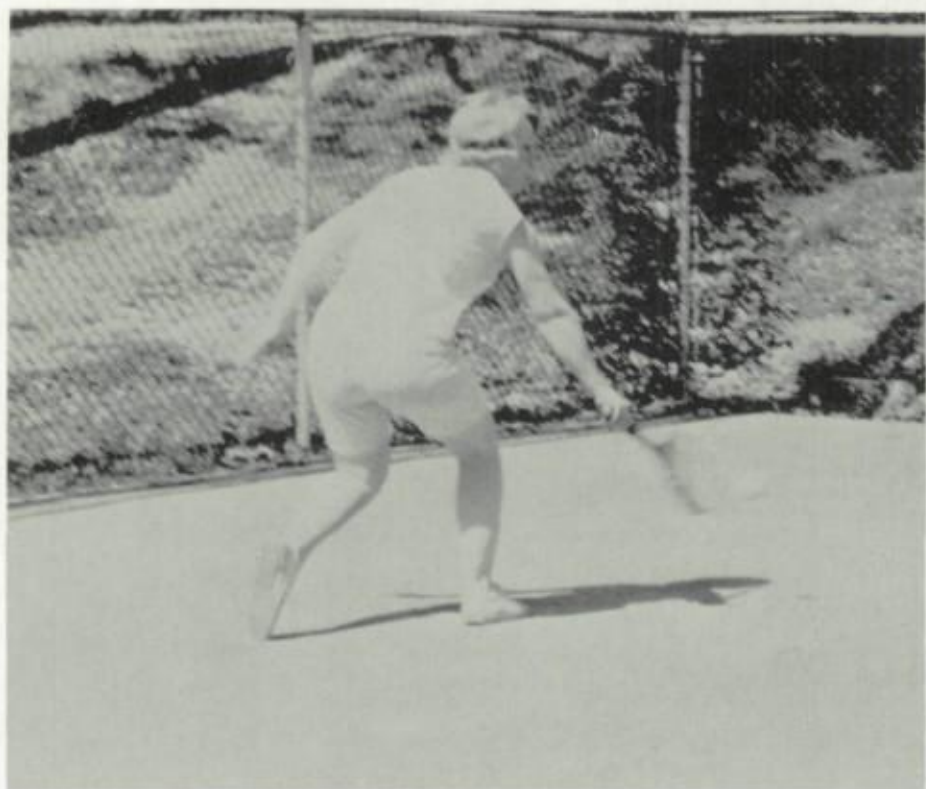

"Help it over!"

The varsity volleyball team, referred to as "the big fifteen," is a group of skilled athletes who spend a great deal of time practicing for games. These girls are chosen by Mrs. Rodman. They play other schools in this area and compete in the Regional Tournament.

Volleyball requires much skill and a great deal of practice. Every day during the volleyball season, the team spends sixth period improving their technique and skill. This year the Dynahs faced tough competition, but nevertheless attained a winning record.

Gammon Leads Tennis Team In Successful Season

The City High tennis team is successful due to the hard work each team member displays. The team plays at the Tennis Club during the fall and spring. The Dynahs compete against area teams such as Red Bank, Notre Dame, and Girls' Preparatory School. Holding the number one position is captain, Ann Gammon, Allison Duffy plays in second position and Sharon Samples and Sherry Weekley follow in third and fourth position respectively.

Diane Blevins, Jeannie Gilbert, Dona Eldridge, Rosie Higdon, Pam Stillwell, Lauren McIntosh.

DYNAHS SWIM TEAM

Rosie Higdon and Jeannie Gilbert perform back dive together.

The success of the Dynahs Swimming Team is due to the strenuous practice of its individual members. Trophies and medals were awarded to several members of the team.

In the fall, an intramural swim meet was held. The various events were: 50 meter breast stroke, 50 meter freestyle, 100 meter individual medley, 100 meter freestyle, and 100 meter butterfly. Rosie Higdon and Jeannie Gilbert took part in diving competition. Mrs. Rodman coached the team.

Diane Blevins, Jeannie Gilbert, and Dona Eldridge "get set" for the race.

DRILL SQUAD . . .

Performs in Halftime Activities at Five Football Games

The Drill Squad is the well trained group of girls who participate in the half-time activities at many of the football games. They are called the Dynamettes.

During the summer, the officers attend a clinic under the direction of Mr. Casavant. Drill Squad practice begins in August and lasts from 8:30 to 11:30. They occasionally practice at night.

This group performed exceptionally well this year in spite of the fact that they had no drill field. Their outstanding staff is to be commended for making up all of the routines performed.

Their spring activities are highlighted by participation in the Armed Forces Day Parade.

Bankers Club

The Bankers Club maintains and operates the bookstore at City. Sponsored by Mr. Barton, the school treasurer, they keep track of every cent that comes in the bookstore and sell all school supplies needed by a student.

To become a member, a person has to submit a written application, work in the bookstore for several weeks, and finally be chosen by the entire club on the basis of his willingness and ability to do the work required.

Their social life as a club includes an occasional slumber party (for the girls), a hayride, and a house-party.

Whenever a person happens to peep backstage days before, during, or after a performance, he will see the Bulldogs working away at the largest portion of the work. This work is stage maintenance which includes maintaining and operating all stage materials and the public address system of the auditorium.

The Bulldogs have several parties during the school year and a houseparty to top it off at the end of a hard working year.

Hi-Y Club

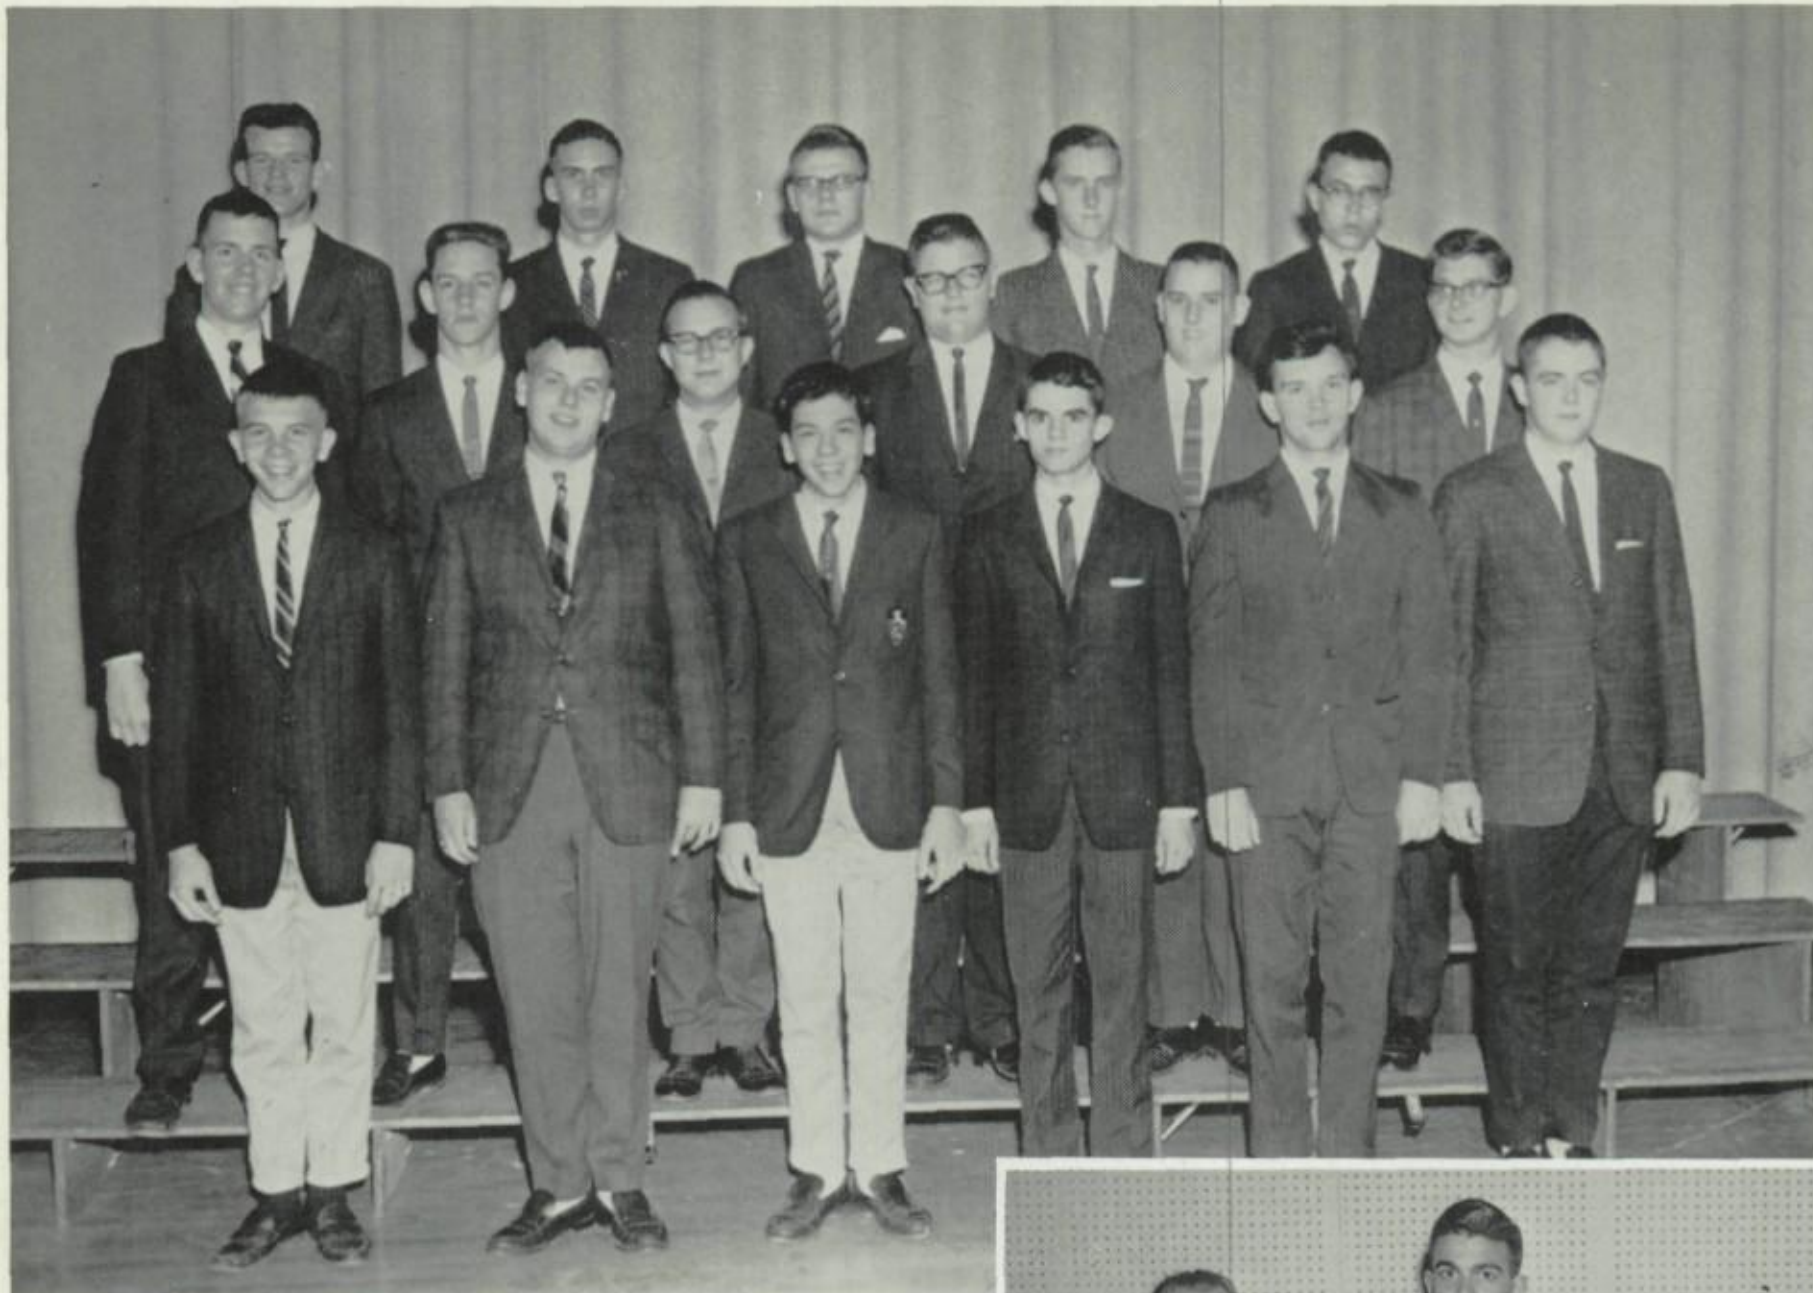

The Hi-Y Club at Chattanooga High School, sponsored by Jimmy Duke, boasts as its fundamental purpose "to create, maintain, and extend through the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character."

This year Hi-Y's two main service projects are cafeteria management and Christian Fellowship work. These, however, are just two among numerous other projects for providing money for the club treasury and for service to C.H.S.

They do manage to work in plenty of fun during the year. A Christmas party, a hayride, and a houseparty at the end of the year are a few examples of their several social functions.

Each year Hi-Y presents an impressive initiation ceremony.

Junior Lions

The Junior Lions Club of City High is affiliated with the Lions Club International. Sponsored by Mr. C. B. Barker, they are the first Junior Lions Club to be organized in the world.

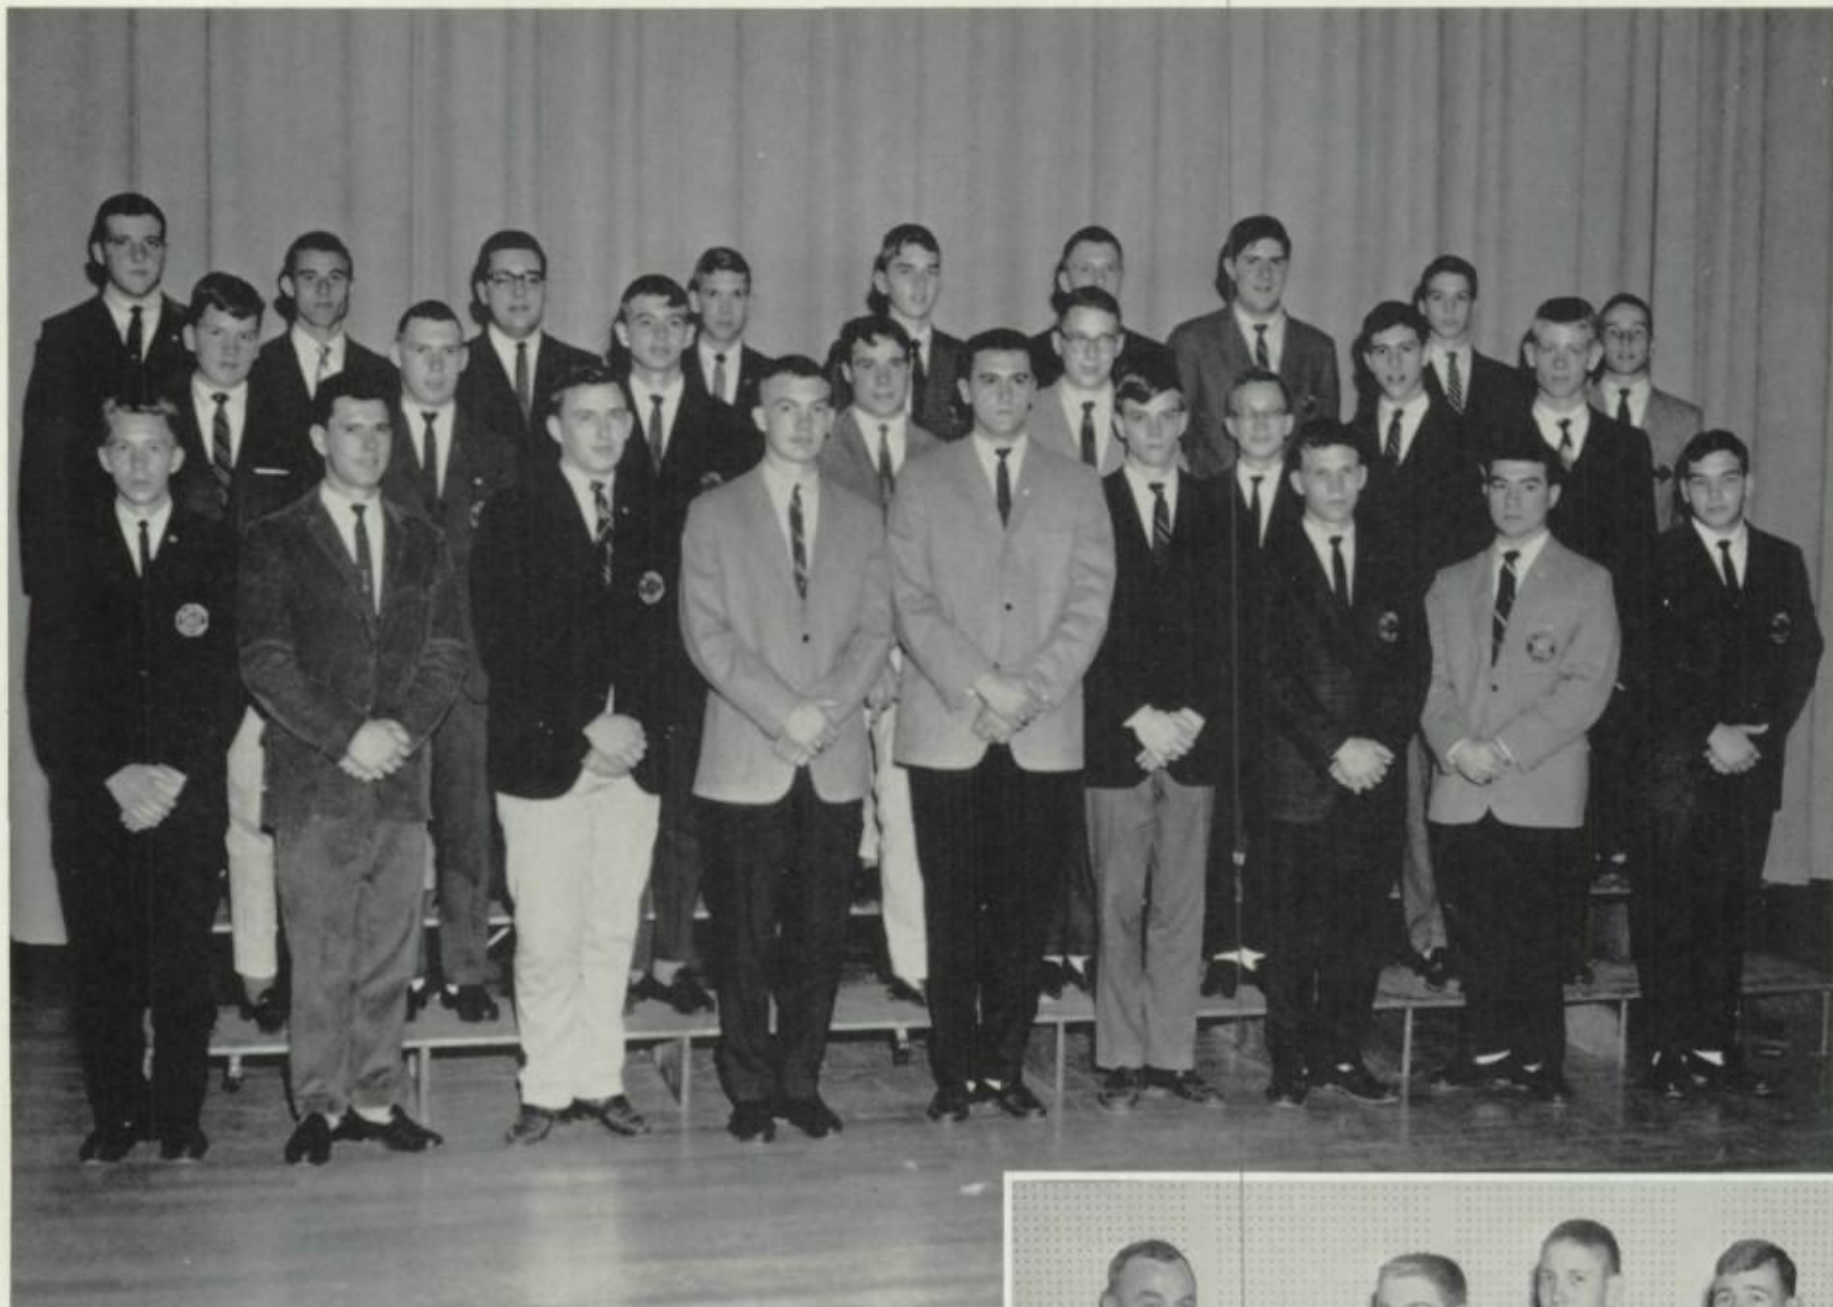

Among their service projects for the school are the Lions Club bulletin board, the Lions Club calendar, and their work at the school basketball games. Starting this year, they are sponsoring a generous scholarship fund for one senior who plans to attend college. It will provide an amount of $300 for his or her first year of college.

Along with work for the school they enjoy such social activities as a hayride, Christmas banquet, a few stag parties after football and basketball games, and finally a houseparty at the end of the year.

Close friendships and development of strong leadership and character are but two products of such a fine club.

Here we have an example of Jr. Lions' ticket sales.

Jr. Sertoma Club

This year at City High, the Junior Sertoma Club, sponsored by Coach Phifer, is offering as much splendid service to the school as ever. They started the year off by maintaining the parking lot during football games and continued this project all during the year for all athletic events. They also have a chili supper in February and donate various sums of money to certain worthy organizations.

Their social program includes stag parties, hayrides, and a houseparty at the end of the year.

Key Club

This year the Key Club, which is affiliated with Kiwanis International, is working as hard as ever to aid and improve the school. They usher at Kiwanis Travelogues, publish the student directory for City High, sponsor the vocational guidance forums, and undertake many more projects of worthwhile value for the school, home, and community.

The Key Club's social projects include a Club Sweetheart Dance, a March, a hayride, monthly dinner meetings for club members, and a houseparty.

Anchors

Sponsored by the Chattanooga Chapter of the Pilot Club International the goals of the Anchors are to provide experience in living and working together, to serve the school and community, and to prepare for useful citizenship. Two of their main projects are checking coats for school dances and other functions and providing school spirit by selling Maroon and White shakers at games. This year the Anchor Club at C.H.S. helped the Pilot Club with the Halloween Party at Bonny Oaks. In addition to their service projects they have slumber parties and an Officers' Banquet.

When you see a harassed, hurried girl at the concession stand during the ball games at City, you have seen a "busy Booster." Among many services rendered to the school their biggest project is operating the concession stand at all home games, the proceeds of which go to the Athletic Association. The Boosters also sell "footballs" representing City and the opposing teams at football games. In addition to their projects they have many social activities, including, a hayride, banquets, and slumber parties.

F. H. A.

The Future Homemakers of America Club at C.H.S. works long and hard for its school. Among the many services rendered this year are checking coats at the Military Ball, serving for the Class of '53 Reunion and all faculty teas, serving at Col. Bates Birthday Party, and sponsoring and selling tickets for the enjoyable "Faculty Follies." However, all is not work and no play. They have a National Convention every year, a spring banquet and slumber parties. Sponsored by Miss Darbey, the old members choose the new members, who are girls interested in being trained in all the skills of homemaking.

Tri-Hi-Y

An active girls' service club at City is the TRI-HI-Y, Sister club to the HI-Y, whose purpose is to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community, high standards of Christian character. The club is affiliated with the Y.M.C.A. and is one of the hundreds of TRI-HI-Y Clubs throughout the nation. The girls and Mrs. Royer, the Club Sponsor, meet each week to plan worthwhile projects for the school and for the enrichment of Christian Fellowship. Some projects of the past year include the annual decoration for May Day, selling brooms and pennants and polishing the athletic trophies. In addition to the service projects, they also have slumber parties and banquets.

Girls' Opti-Miss

The purpose of the Girls Optimiss Club is to promote service and leadership in every phase of school life. They alternate service and social projects and, in this way, keep an interesting schedule.

Industrial Optimiss girls were seen washing cars, selling Katy-dids, and holding a charity bazaar at East Gate to raise funds for their service projects. Their dependable service was exhibited through worthwhile projects which include a Christmas party at Oak Manor, Easter treats for children at the Children's Hospital, and a Valentine party for orphans at Chambliss Home. They also presented a gift to the school at the school's 90th Anniversary Celebration.

A "choice" delegation of Optimiss members.

Bible Club

The main object of the Bible Club is to further the knowledge of the Bible and its teachings to the members. With their new sponsor, Mrs. Howell, they have many outside speakers and publish a Gospel Tract Pamphlet for all students at C.H.S.

DEPUTY COUNCIL

Miss Scholze, Sponsor

The Deputy Council was organized in 1948 for the purpose of taking announcements to the homerooms on the day that Student Council has its business meeting. This is usually on Wednesday.

Each homeroom elects one senior and these representatives elect their own officers. The president is automatically a member of Student Council and is in charge of assembly programs periodically. The secretary must be ready to take the Student Council secretary's place if she and the Student Council treasurer are both absent.

MAJORETTES RANK HIGHEST IN CHS HISTORY

This year, Chattanooga High School can claim the "Best Majorette Corps in Tennessee" as was proven in the contest at Murfreesboro. At the Bristol and Chattanooga contests, the majorettes achieved first place and a number 1 rating, respectively.

Hardworking, to say the least, is true of these girls. Tryouts were held at the beginning of the summer with practice sessions starting immediately. Before the beginning of the school year, these practice sessions lasted all day. In addition to performing with the band, the majorettes take part in Pre Vues, Stunt Nite, and pep meetings.

Leading the squad this year is Judy Plemons with Lynn Crowder, Joan Graham, Judi Grammer, Robin Lyons, Karlynn Riggsby, and Susie Visnich.

The "Month of Hearts" was also a "Month of Queens." Not one, but two queens reigned at the annual Military Ball held on February 1, for City and Central agreed to share a pleasant evening. Vivacious Gloria Alsobrooks, who was chosen to wear City's crown, made a charming picture as she was presented under the arch of swords.

On December 20, the shouts of children filled the air. Not only were the children surprised with their gifts, but the seniors were also often surprised with a face full of water. It was hard to tell who enjoyed the Christmas party more, the seniors or the tots; for one is never too old to escape the cheerful atmosphere of Christmas.

Sponsoring Cadet Colonel Don Jones was lovely Sherrie Hill, Colonel of the Dynamette Precision Drill Regiment. The officers and sponsors of both the R.O.T.C. and the Girls' Drill Squad passed in review before a throng of spectators.

"Sharing" Is Theme of Thanksgiving Program

The performance of the sophomore choir on November 27, lent a spirit of reverence to the annual Thanksgiving program. Baskets of food for the needy lined the stage, giving proof of the unselfishness of the students. "Sharing" was the theme of a skit presented by the sophomores, and we can truthfully say that this theme has long been a tradition at Chattanooga High School. Service to others is an important part of school life.

Prevues Centers Around Campus Life

Prevues, with its Hootenanny theme, was pervaded with an informal collegiate atmosphere. Throngs of students wandered across the stage throughout the show. The swing band appeared in casual clothes rather than the usual formal attire, and Mr. Tilson was even persuaded to do a comedy routine.

This new approach was highly entertaining and made Prevues more enjoyable than ever before.

The events of the "soaring sixties" were vividly portrayed in one of the best performances of Stunt Nite ever given. Scenery depicting a variety of settings, from the old building to the LBJ Ranch, carried out the theme beautifully.

Of course, the highlight of the evening was the presentation of Miss Chattanooga High School, vivacious Kitty Gilbert. The naming of Colonel Bates as Mr. C.H.S. came as a pleasant surprise to all.

May Day Depicts Phases of Colonel's Life

To honor our own Colonel Bates was the objective of this year's May Day. Each dance pointed out some highlight of his life, from his childhood to his later days.

Brilliant sunshine complemented the multi-colored gowns of the senior girls as they made their debut. Certainly May Day of 1964 will remain one of the best in the city's history.

During his many years at City, Colonel has attended many proms.

Gary Culver places the royal crown on Donald Sims' head.

On January 25 the tables were turned and girls all over the school took their special male to a full-filled night of dancing and merriment. Don Sims reigned over the group; and his rivals for the coveted honor, Jim Bowen, Gary Culver, Mike Dzvonic, John Horne, Collin Lord, David Mercer, Frank Potter, Steve Ramsey, Bill Stewart, Bill Thompson, and Boofer Wilkey, paid homage to their king.

Students Become Victims of Spring Fever

Paper flowers blossomed and gaily colored streamers fell from the ceiling as the Commons was transformed into a spring garden. A welcomed escape from the monotony of lectures and homework, the Spring Formal, with its "Spring Fever" theme, took place on March 20. Dancing to the music of Morris Bales, drinking punch, or just talking, students and faculty alike thoroughly enjoyed this pleasant evening.

Friendships (?) blossom between dances.

"Age before beauty," says Dave Geren.

Despite the rather warm evening, couples enjoyed dancing to the music of Jack Kinser.

Colonel Bates, the most outstanding member of the Class of '64, shows everyone else up on the dance floor.

Juniors Choose "Old South" As Theme of Prom

Steeped in the tradition of the South, the Junior-Senior Prom was the first formal dance to be held in the new gym. A high temperature, low-hanging streamers, and a beautiful plantation house setting were the unique characteristics of this last big dance before graduation.

Left: Now whom shall I dance with next?

Right: New shoes and dancing just don't go together.

A first for the Class of '64 was the Senior Banquet, which replaced the traditional luncheon.

Taking with them only their memories, the Seniors leave City for the last time.

Adds Harmony Night

Sentimentality was the predominant spirit of Class Night, which was held on May 26. Memories were shared at the banquet before the program, while numerous experiences were brought back to mind by the Class Night speakers. Certainly this last school meeting of the seniors and of Col. Bates eased the sadness of farewell.

Under the direction of Mr. Craven, the orchestra provided music for the occasion.

Seniors Earn a Day of Fun

Dance, little children; dance!!

From "white trash" to cavemen, the seniors tried to convey their true personalities on Senior Day, May 5. The highlight of the day was a picnic on the baseball field where Wooten and his belly dancers won the first prize costume award.

The awards presented to the school in honor of Colonel Bates included a portrait of Mr. CHS himself.

Underclassmen watched the program on closed circuit television.

Colonel's joyous outlook on life spreads to all who come in contact with him. With his kindly smile or his ringing laughter, he radiates happiness in all phases of his work.

April 17th Is Proclaimed Bates Appreciation Day

Chattanooga declared April 17, 1964, Bates Appreciation Day in an effort to show her gratitude for Colonel's lifetime dedication to education. Certainly we are very fortunate in having such a distinguished and beloved principal at Chattanooga High School.

Doctor Fowle served as principal speaker, and many other guests made tributes to our Colonel as well. A lighter side of the program was the presentation of "This Is Your Life," a review of Colonel's past, organized by Mrs. Elizabeth Wade.

Colonel's bad boys came back to honor him.

A childhood friend of Colonel Bates, Mr. Fred Colby.

n 87th Commencement Program

Colonel Bates Graduates With the Class of 1964

Colonel Bates receives standing ovation.

Diplomas are passports to new of life for the Seniors.

Cheerleaders lead the final Alma Mater.

The Class of '65 begins its senior year.

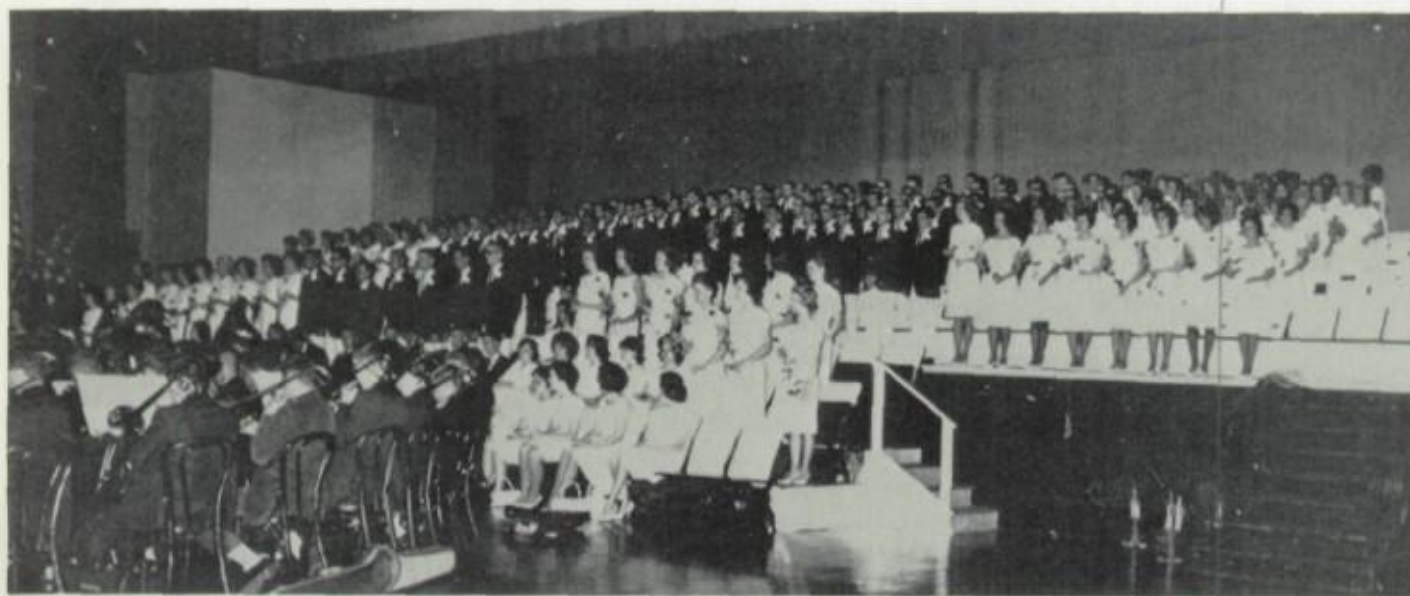

*Graduation Exercises
Are Followed by
All Night Party for Seniors . . .*

Some with smiles, some with tears, the seniors leave their high school days behind.

Jay Craven makes his last performance with the choir one of his finest.

Commencement is the last meeting of the Class of '64.

After the graduation marches and the tears of sorrow, the red-eyed seniors and their dates were prepared to attend City's all night party. The first of its kind at City, it was a great success. The Commencement Dance lasted until 12:30; then all the tired individuals who were unlucky enough to go home to crawl into bed left. After the movie Gigi was shown, everyone was awakened again by a rousing hootenanny. A breakfast at 4:00 a.m. wound up the gala affair and the happy graduates headed for home.

Preparing to present his class, Colonel makes his farewell.

Seniors Rick Shipp and Gary Mason entertain in the Commons.

Seniors Show Stamina at All-Night Party

Everyone gladly shared his talents to make the early morning hootenanny a success.

With breakfast and dawn, the party was brought to a close.

Because of workers such as Sandra Suit, Sharon Mullinax, Mrs. Wade and Colonel Bates and the tremendous support of the PTA, City's first all-night party was the greatest event of the year.

Multi marriages for wedding gowns are becoming more and more practical under a process which was first introduced in Chattanooga by Esquire Cleaners. The brides of the next century may now inherit today's bridal gown and face the altar in an heirloom that has hardly aged at all. After processing, the gown is returned sealed in full-vision Vinylite, and protected by a special box.

WE HAVE STEPPED UP . . .

to a new school . . .
a new face for an old tradition . . .
C.H.S.

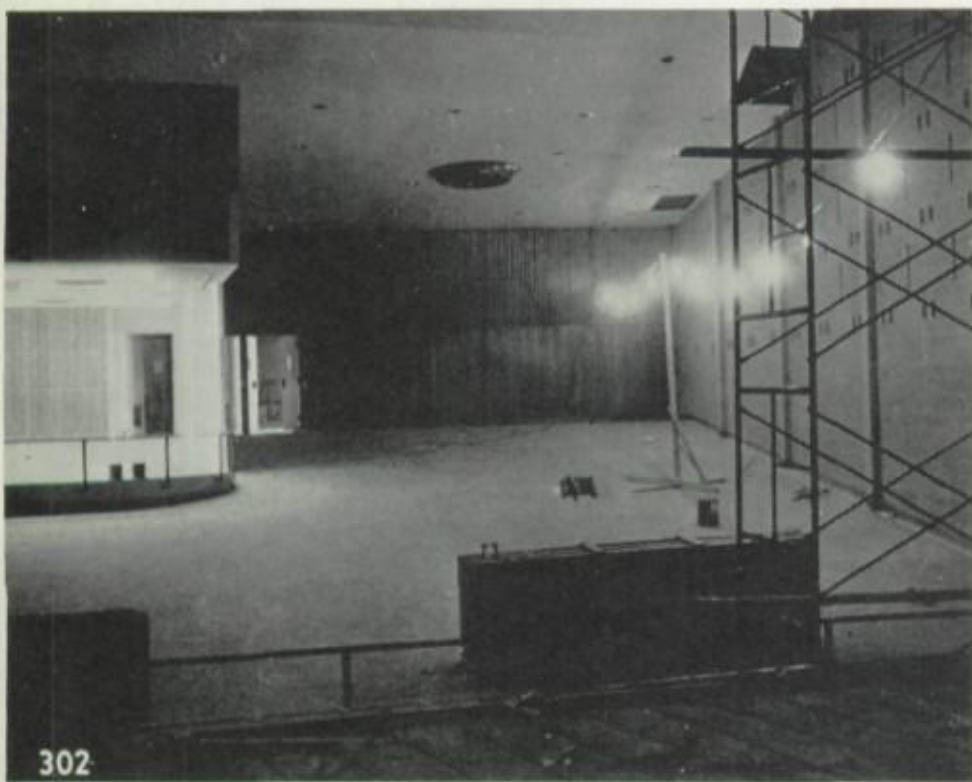

to a new height of
learning . . .
the powers of tomorrow being charged today at . . .
C.H.S.

to new realms of honor . . . we came in top rank in every field; WE did . . .
C.H.S.

to the reality of maturity . . . the world is waiting on our next move
from . . .
C.H.S.

to a certain sadness . . . He is leaving . . . but only physically . . .
his name and his words will ring through these, and other halls far longer than the years it will take them to decay . . .
he put his heart into her;
his Lady . . .
C.H.S.

to an unequaled respect . . .
in town, state, nation . . .
because we ARE Chattanooga High School!

As we step toward the future . . .

We take with us

The memory of our happy days with you . . .

We take thy gifts of knowledge,

Talent, tolerance, independence.

But we wish to leave behind

Our gifts to those yet to come.

We leave our spirit, our traditions,

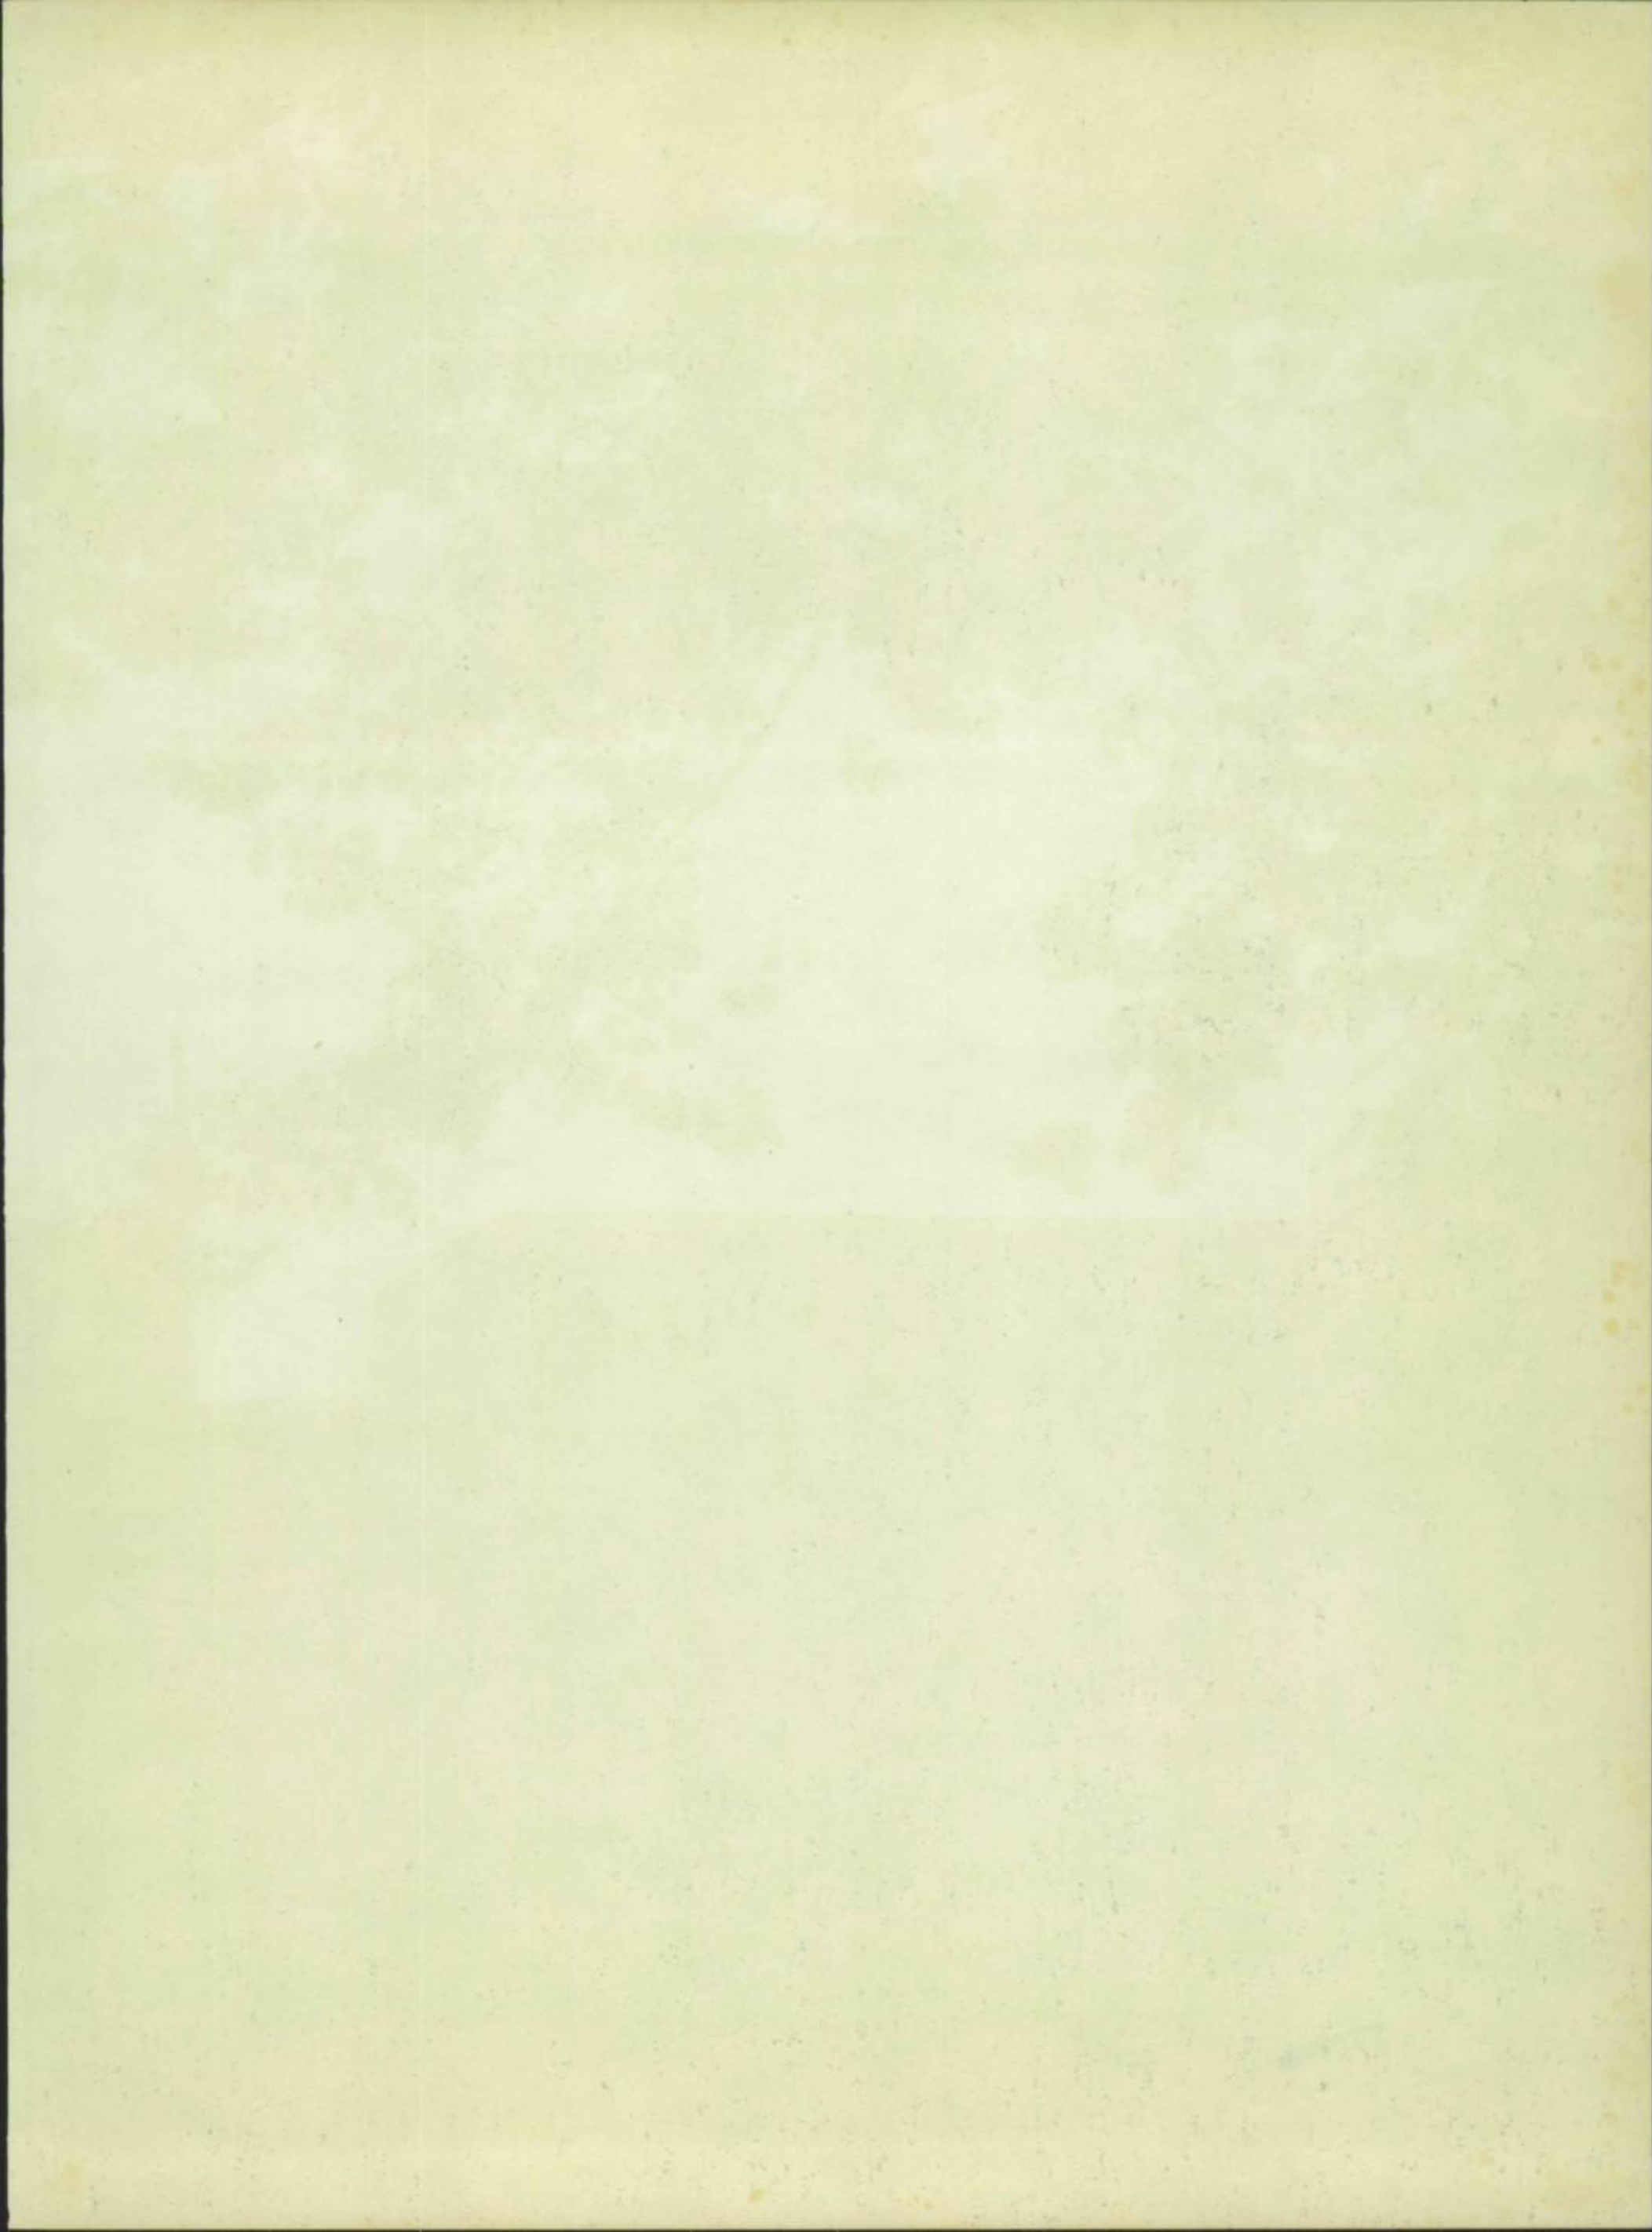

Our love, our tears, our laughter . . .

But most of all we leave our pride in

"The Oldest and the Best."
